

Shape Book

Target Age:

Late Infant

Skills Learned:

- * Language Development
- * Size and Shape Discrimination
- * Concept Development

Activity Category:

- * Sensory Experiences

Activity Contributor:

Beth Bronsil, M. Ed.

What To Do:

A child's concept of shapes will be reinforced with a homemade "Shape Book." If you have already started a shape book (with circle, square, rectangle), add new shapes to the book (octagon, hexagon, etc.). Make the shapes out of blue construction paper. Put the shapes in the shape book and read the book together with your child.

Variations:

Label each shape.
